ZERO RATED URLS & UTLO

ICS has confirmed that the following URL's are ZERO-RATED by MTN. They are still awaiting the list from Vodacom. Zero-rating is the practice of providing Internet access without financial cost under certain conditions, such as by only permitting access to certain websites or by subsidizing the service with advertising or by exempting certain websites from the data allowance. If you login into UKZN VPN then access these sites using MTN it does not cost you data. Please also remember to access the UTLO website for further online teaching information and assistance <http://utlo.ukzn.ac.za>

SUPPORT FOR ONLINE TEACHING AND LEARNING

In response to the imperative to provide alternative modes of teaching and learning, various training opportunities have been developed, and a suite of others are being developed to support academics.

Currently, the following are on offer:

- The Online Activated Teaching (ACT) short-course, facilitated by Dr Craig Blewett
- A series of basic and advanced instructional videos for staff and students on using Moodle, developed by ICS
- Webinars/Workshops on assessing with Moodle, facilitated by Dr Upasana Singh
- Instructional guides and videos on Zoom and MS Teams
- Instructional guide on HandBrake, which is a free video compression tool

Note: Most of the above offerings are freely available with no limits to participation. Recordings of workshops/webinars are/will be available at <http://utlo.ukzn.ac.za>

- Academics have complained about the limitations of Moodle as the official UKZN Learning Management System. In response, we have procured Kaltura, which will offer seamless integration of a range of teaching resources. It will be available on 1 May 2020, after the installation is completed and training provided.

The offerings identified in this communicate are available in the UKZN repository: the 'TEACH ONLINE PORTAL' (UTOP). To access the Online Portal, go to the UTLO homepage via Google Chrome <http://utlo.ukzn.ac.za> and click on TEACH ONLINE PORTAL.

We invite academics and professional staff to contribute to the development of the PORTAL by sharing teaching and learning resources. Please send contributions to utlo@ukzn.ac.za

In order to satisfy our appetite for responsive teaching innovation, we urge you to write to us at utlo@ukzn.ac.za to: Advise us of your training and development needs

Offer your expertise and service.
